

SALK SHOTS URGED FOR RESIDENTS

Albany still has a long way to go before becoming completely protected from polio.

William Thomas, Albany chairman of the March of Dimes drive and executive board member of the Alameda County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said that more than 80 percent of Albany residents under 40 still have not received Salk vaccine shots.

Nearly 100 per cent of those between 15 and 40 are unprotected with only a small part of the high-risk group; those under 15 receiving Salk vaccine shots.

Thomas said that MOD volunteers are launching a major effort to encourage full support of the vaccine program. A group of teenagers, "Teens Against Polio", has been formed to urge those in their own age group to get vaccine shots immediately.

Albany shows a far higher figure of those unprotected than Southern Alameda County areas, Thomas said, where school children were given shots in the original test trials of the vaccine in California three years ago.

In that area, an estimated 55 percent of those under 15 have received Salk shots, but in Albany the figure is much lower, estimated at less than 20 per cent. The same figure holds true for both Oakland and Berkeley.

Young married adults, constituting another high risk group, also are almost completely unprotected, with less than one percent with Salk shots. This group, because of contact with children, is considered one of the high risk categories for polio.

For the county as a whole, those unprotected are estimated at 80 percent, considerably higher than the state figure of 70 percent.

Thomas said that unless California's population under 40 is vaccinated by Spring, between one and a thousand polio cases which might have been prevented will occur in 1957.

Full public acceptance of the Salk vaccine will bring the threat of polio to a standstill, Thomas said. The record of 1956 shows that polio was cut almost to the vanishing point in those who received three properly spaced shots, but not unchecked in those who received no vaccine.

RAISE IN TAX URGED BY BOARD

Due to the urgency of the need for more funds to maintain Albany schools at their present high standard, and the knowledge that many Albany residents are unfamiliar with the present crisis in school finances, the Board of Education has issued a summary of costs and school tax comparisons in advance of the school tax election to be held on Tuesday, Jan. 22.

Says the statement: "Briefly, there is a shortage of money due to the closing of Codornices school which brought in more income from state and federal sources than was required to finance its operation. The extra money from Codornices School 'carried' the other Albany Schools during a period of rising costs, and made it possible to defer a tax increase up until the present time.

"The pattern of rising costs was set primarily by increases in teachers salaries: 7.56% in 1933-54, 4.78% in 1954-55, 5.06% in 1955-56, 3.2% in 1956-57. These increases were required to maintain salaries comparable to those in neighboring districts. It is of interest to note that our present salary schedule is slightly lower than that of Berkeley; slightly higher than that of Oakland, and considerably lower (by an average of about $200 per year) than that of Richmond.

"When Codornices Village closed the number of teachers and other employees was reduced proportionately, but since income from Codornices exceeded expenses, the inevitable result of the closing was a shortage of money for the rest of the district. The bar graph illustrates the financial picture of the Albany Unified School District for the past four years. For 1956-57 the deficit of some $210,000 was made up out of the cash balance which was depleted to about the minimum safe level of $50,000.

"The question before the Board of Education was how much of an increase in the maximum allowable tax rate was required at this time. The figure of $3.40 per $100 assessed valuation was arrived at as follows:

"The present maximum tax limit is .....	$1.65
"To remove the current deficit of $210,000 will require an additional tax of.....	1.20
"To offset the reduction in State Apportionment that resulted from an increase in the District assessed valuation will require an additional tax of .....	.10

"This year there were extraordinary reductions of expenditures for maintenance. (Continued on Page 6)

Zerelda Owsley Dies Suddenly In Albany Home

Zerelda Wall Owsley, well known Bay Area newspaper woman and a resident of Albany for the last 15 years, passed away in her sleep early last Saturday. She had been a semi-invalid for the last several months. Mrs. Owsley had been up, and around all day Friday and apparently in the best of spirits. Her passing came as a decided shock to her many friends and acquaintances.

During the early part of World War II Mrs. Owsley served as a special assistant coordinator of civil defense for the City of Berkeley, and from 1942 to 1953 was city hall reporter and feature writer for the Berkeley Gazette. She retired in 1953 because of ill health.

She resided at 801 Cerrito Street in a home she purchased some 15 years ago and had a wide circle of friends in Albany and throughout the East Bay.

A native of Lincoln, Neb., Mrs. Owsley is survived by two sons, John A. Owsley of Berkeley, and Donald J. Owsley of Richmond; two sisters, Mrs. Elene Baker of Albany, and Mrs. Dorothy Mackley of Richmond, a brother, Frank Wall of the Merchant Marine and five grandchildren. Her brother made his home with her, but is now at sea.

Mrs. Owsley's eldest son, Warren V. Owsley, with the Marine Corps, was captured by the Japanese at the fall of Cavite early in 1942, made the march with other prisoners up the Bataan Peninsula, and died in a prison camp in 1943.

Private services were held on Wednesday at a Berkeley funeral chapel with the Rev. Fred Stripp officiating.

The Immigration official pointed out that the law requires all non-citizens except persons in diplomatic status, foreign representatives to the United Nations and Mexican national contract laborers to report their address to the Government each January.

Mr. Barber added: "The parent or legal guardian of alien children under 14 years of age must fill out the address report form for such children, in order to comply with the law."

SIGNALS AT MARIN-SANTA FE STUDIED

The question of whether or not traffic signals are necessary or advisable at the Marin-Santa Fe intersection came before the city council Monday night when Mrs. Zahn declared the volume of traffic at that point has become dangerous to pedestrians, and especially children. She said drivers very often ignore the stop signs and something should be done about it.

A preliminary traffic count and study was suggested and, after some discussion Mrs. Zahn moved that a traffic count be made, and that automatic electric counters be rented for the purpose. The motion was seconded by Councilman D. Saline and passed unanimously.

It was further ordered that the results of the count be referred to the Traffic and Safety Commission for its recommendation.

A report by Consulting Traffic Engineer D. Jackson Faustman on the "Feasibility of One-Way Streets" was presented and, after a brief discussion, it was moved by Blank and seconded by Keck that a Public Hearing be held on the evening of Monday, Jan. 28, and that every effort be made to obtain a large and representative attendance at the hearing, including an advertisement urging the public to attend, to be published in The Albany Times issue of Friday, Jan. 25.

The streets under immediate consideration are Adams, parallel and to the west of San Pablo and Kains Avenue bearing the same relation to San Pablo on the east.

Other council action included:

Approval of the request of City Health Officer Dr. Robert T. McMahon for the transfer of $300 from a special fund in his budget, not now needed, for the purchase of office equipment made necessary by the transfer of the department offices to the space just vacated by the city engineer. It was pointed out that the department has previously been located in connection with Dr. McMahon's offices on Solano Avenue, and that most of the equipment is Dr. McMahon's personal property. The vote was 4 to 0, Mrs. Zahn passing her vote.

Passed to second reading and publication was Ordinance No. 57-01, establishing set-back lines at Lot 2, Block 12, Sunset Terrace (948 Jackson Street).

Passed on first reading Ordinance No. 57-02, establishing set-back lines for Lot 18, Block 4, Cerrito Hill. Between 746 and 754 Gateway Avenue. For the purpose of building a carport. Motion to approve by Keck, seconded by Donahue. Vote was 4 to 0, with Blank passing.

Recommendation of Planning & Zoning Commission that Lot 24, Block 16, Sunset Terrace be rezoned from Second Residential to Three-story Commercial for parking and an additional building for storage (Held over from previous meetings), was again held over awaiting submission of a plan or drawing showing in detail the proposed construction plans.

Games Through The Ages

CHESS, a game requiring high intellectual skill, played as far back as 5000 B.C. and often called the Royal Game. Its concluding move, "checkmate," stems from the Arabic "shah mat"—the King's dead. The United States chess champion is Arthur Bisguier, age 27, New York City.

MAH JONGG, a Chinese game invented about 500 B.C. (Confucius era). It became the vogue in the U.S. in the 1920's and is still popular with women's groups.

MONOPOLY broke all rules for best-selling games but, nevertheless, became a national craze as it gave adults and youngsters the illusion of wealth and property ownership. Monopoly is sold throughout the world—except in Russia.

ROOK, a card game in which variations of games are played with a special deck. It is particularly popular in the South, Southwest and Midwest. Because of its popularity, authors have referred to Rook in novels and articles.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Taxpayers who prepare their own return, or return may enter non-taxable income, or overlook reporting taxable income. May list incomplete, allowable deductions, or list non-allowable deductions. May not list depreciation allowances, gains or losses from sales, exchanges of property, rents, annuities, profit or loss from business, professions, conversions, or self employment tax, etc. Such could result in a higher tax or reduce the amount of refund. Errors made would require an amended return, or returns.

Should you desire to have your Federal or State return or both prepared by one who is a graduate in government income tax, no doubt you will profit by his knowledge and experience over others not thoroughly versed in income tax procedure. The result no doubt would be a greater refund, or reduce the tax in your favor over the fee charged.

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (241:23-27): "One's aim, a point beyond faith, should be to find the footsteps of Truth, the way to health and holiness. ## A Letter To The Editor

To the citizens of Albany: Once in a while we meet those who forever progress with negative reactions. Times those who react in a negative manner are in fact stumbling blocks in the development of a community. We must continue to set educational standards for our country to maintain its leadership in a highly competitive world. Of course, the education has risen along with the living. A dreamer buy a suit of clothes at a price he paid twenty years ago just can't be done!

The problems of education have been thoroughly studied by members of our Board of Education. These people of integrity have made recommendations only after careful consideration. It is now to do our utmost to improve our educational system.

The training we give our children and our neighbors is one of the most valuable things we can give our youth. Let us not fail ourselves by our youth of the full education needed. Let us vote YES on school tax in November.

(Signed) Ellen 1006 Peralta Ave.

HEARTS DELIGHT

Many card experts claim that Hearts, now experiencing a revival of popularity, is one of the best card games ever invented. They say that the old favorite, while deceptively easy and amusing (it can be learned in five minutes), nevertheless holds rewards for the intelligent player as he faces an opponent who relies exclusively on sheer luck.

Dating back to an 18th Century Spanish favorite called Reverse, Hearts is the only game in the vast card repertoire which bears the name of one of the four major suits. It is further distinguished from other card games in that the player tries to lose rather than win tricks.

If you recall this famous old game, you'll remember that the object of play is to avoid taking Hearts in tricks, for each Heart won counts one point against you and is scored minus one. You also try to avoid acquiring that shady lady of the deck, the Queen of Spades. She counts 13 points against you if you are unlucky or unskillful enough to win her. (For this reason, Hearts is often called Black Lady or Black Widow.)

Hearts may be played with any standard 52-card deck by from three to seven players but is best for four.

In this game, the cards are dealt clockwise, 13 to each player, one at a time.

After looking at his hand, each player selects any three cards and passes them face down to the player at his right. The player must pass the three cards before looking at the three cards he receives from his left.

Player at left of dealer leads first. Each player must follow suit, if able. If unable, he may discard any card. The player holding the Queen of Spades may discard it at his first opportunity. A trick is won by the highest card of the suit led. Winner of a trick leads to the next.

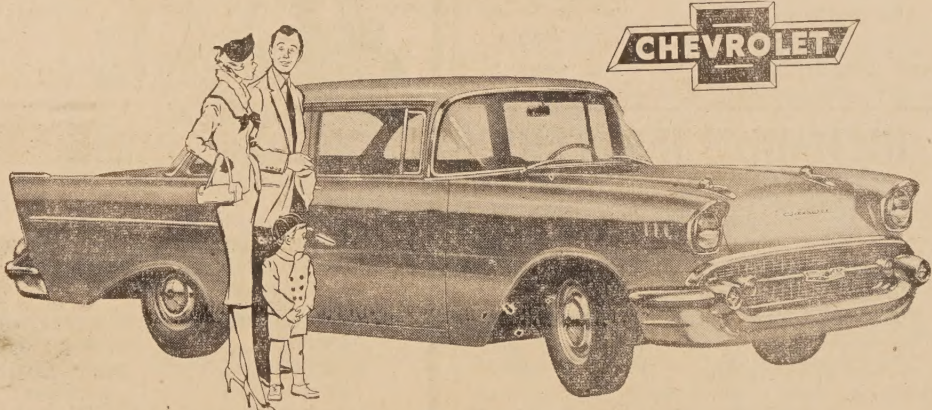

After all cards have been played, each player looks through his trickpile to determine how many Hearts he was forced to take. Each player is charged one point for every Heart and 13 points for the Queen of Spades. When any player reaches 50 or 100 points, the player with the lowest score is the winner.

Hearts is also subject to all kinds of variations. Included among these are Omnibus Hearts, Cancellation Hearts, Domino Hearts and Roving Hearts. The latter variation, zaniest of all, allows the dealer to order all hands to be passed once to the left or once to the right. Or, he could allow everyone to play the hand in his possession without passing any cards to left or right.

If you would like the official rules for playing Hearts plus some of its more popular variations, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Playing Cards, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, N. Y.

WINNER 12TH NATIONAL TRAFFIC SAFETY POSTER CONTEST

The importance of dressing so you can be seen by motorists in the dark may save your life, says the California State Automobile Association. More than half of all pedestrians killed in traffic are struck at night. Many people do not realize how difficult it is for drivers to see pedestrians in dark clothing. If everyone who has to walk along highways and cross poorly lighted streets at night would wear something white or light-colored, the hazards of darkness would be greatly reduced. If you don't happen to be wearing something white, then carry a newspaper or other white or shiny object. Your life as a pedestrian will be safer.

The expenditures for salaries and materials in the School District are greatly influenced by general economic trends. NEW TAX LIMIT ..... $3.40

"It may be of further interest to the taxpayer to note that the income from district taxes will still be considerably lower per pupil in Albany than in neighboring districts.

"In conclusion, the members of the Board of Education appeal to each and every resident of Albany to help preserve our excellent school system by supporting wholeheartedly this necessary increase in school district taxes.

"For further and more detailed information, copies of the following reports are available from Dr. Bryan's office at Solano and Talbot Avenues:

"REPORT No. 77 which summarizes expenditures and income for the past four years.

"REPORT No. 76 which compares taxable property and tax rates in Albany with those of neighboring communities.

"Board members welcome the opportunity to speak to interested groups and are willing to attend home gatherings to discuss the tax election and answer questions."

HOW DO YOU ADD UP A YEAR?

Was '56 the year you bought a new house? Had a baby? Landed a new and better job? Or, if you're a youngster, sprouted up a little taller? Sure—there are lots of different ways you can add up a year. Bank of America likes to measure a year by how much it improves its service to Californians. Last year, for example, we made banking more convenient for thousands throughout the state by opening 31 new branches—including our 600th, opened last month in San Mateo. As a result, our bank continues to show a healthy growth in resources. Bank of America's year-end statement of condition, dated December 31, showed our dollar resources at an all-time high of $9,991,842,011.70!

Show them the Way...this week

A child's trust is a precious thing.
Instinctively your little ones rely upon your example...
so the pattern you set becomes their pattern, too.

By taking them to worship with you every week
they will come to know God... to be at ease with Him
... to feel the strength and warmth of His love.
And you will be building the foundation for a richer and happier life for your whole family.

Give them a Faith to live by... Worship with them this week from P. G. and E., a new idea in home lighting

Make your living room larger..with light!

The secret: Flood the room with soft, glare-free light — cheerful light that lifts ceilings... pushes walls back... gives the room that light, airy feeling that comes with floor-to-ceiling windows all around. Here's how to get started:

(1) Count your lamps. It takes at least five lamps to light the average living room satisfactorily. Lamp shades should be white inside and open at the top for upward lighting.

(2) Check light bulbs. Table lamps should have bulbs totalling at least 150-watts; floor lamps, 300-watts.

(3) Balance the light. Place lamps so light fills the room evenly—reducing shadows, cutting down harsh glare.

With P. G. and E.'s low rates for electricity you can easily have better light, brighter living in every room in your home! Why not start right away?

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Click and Tired

People who complain of being "click and tired" often are just that, for illness and fatigue go hand in hand.

When rest and sleep fail to perk up the weary, it may be a warning sign of physical illness—invading microbes or an upset in body functions. A tired, washed-out feeling often lingers long after a virus infection, sometimes for a month or six weeks.

But doctors believe that emotional disturbances are a much more common cause of fatigue. The person who wakes up every morning feeling as though he had never been asleep and just can't "get started" until around noon may be suffering mild emotional fatigue. In more severe forms the bone-weary victim of emotional stress may be breathless, pained and irritable.

This kind of fatigue, medical specialists have found, is usually unrelated to the actual amount of work done. People who expend relatively little energy are likely to cite overwork as a cause of exhaustion. Often their complaints can be traced to conflict, pressure, fear, anxiety and insecurity.

Boredom and lack of interest in work often drain vitality, and paradoxical though it seems, exhaustion is frequently reported among retired or disabled persons forced into inactivity. "Nothing is so exhausting as unhappiness," comments one investigator.

In combating emotional fatigue, specialists point out that it is important for the patient to recognize the things that are making him tired, and then try to eliminate vexing elements from his routine.

Fatigue is as democratic as it is debilitating. Dr. E. A. Burkhardt of New York's Bellevue Hospital describes it as a "normal phenomenon experienced by everyone." Considering the demands of our present-day civilization, he adds, it is an "inalienable right of every American citizen."
